Letter of support

I would like to express my support for the project of the Institute Papilot, to be submitted to the Program: Gruntvig learning partnerships.

I would like to highly recommend this project, which aim is to communicate and exchange strategies for the evaluation of education processes for training of less qualified individuals as well as transfer of know-how and methods of training programs, because of its potential to have a significant positive effect on people and the economic station in the European Union .There are many people, who are for various reasons facing with the problem of unemployment and this program could help them to become more "active", to find a job and to improve their confidence and self-esteem.
